175TH ASSAULT HELICOPTER CO

VINH LONG VIETNAM

1971

BRIEF HISTORY OF 175th

* * * * *

The nickname, "Outlaws" was adopted for the Company as a whole and the Armed Platoon adopted the name "Maverick". These names, along with Unit patch were carried forward from the 62nd to the 175th AHC. The Armed Platoon upon receiving new Cobra gunships changed their name to "Dashhackers", a name fast becoming known over the Delta.

The 175th AHC was originally born as 62nd Avn Co, 11th Air Aslt Div on 6 Aug 1964. On 14 Dec 64 the 62nd was redesignated A Co, 502nd Avn Bn. Finally on 1 Sep 66 the Unit was activated as the 175th Avn Co.

What do you mean do it over again?

Not enough room to lay down here.

What did you do during the war, Daddy?

Who and what happen to this?

Den't look, I'll fix it.

Which one is DUH wrench, Sgt?

I guess it's good for a couple of more hours,
sir!?

Well, I don't see any clouds.
I guess I'll go on that recovery.

Oh, mighty blade in the sky
please grant my wish.

"Checked & found okay"
Go ahead & fly it!

Push a little harder, sir!
And that should fix it.

If Tech Supply can't get it,
I'll make the damn thing.

Broken Hearted

Keep it behind your back until they leave.

This thingamejig in my hand holds the whatchamacallit on, I think?

You can't fly this, your frammis boot is brushing against the Helmos generator.

How when I change this number everyone will be confused.

Looks impressive, doesn't it?

Touch me not

And how are you fixed for blades?

Sphhhh, Mack, your fly is open.

If it doesn't go in right, kick it!

I am trying, sir!

It better be OK, who fixed it?

Figno

You are right, I should have put that drill bit in.

I look busy anyway.

Everything checks out real fine. You can take it up now, sir!

We'll substitute this one, they won't know the difference.

Well, well, well, what have we here?

Man, I an looking for something.

I think I'll go back to the club.

How much tongue 20" or 100" lbs?

Bent on

I think I'll go to the steam bath.

What? Me worry?

Best can opener around.

Hey, you are the maintenance officer!
what is this thing?

Sure feels good.

Just act normal, he'll never notice the main rotor.

Old Stogie

And this is what I'll hide in the engine inlet area.

Ahhh...creations!

No, you can't look inside.

Let's throw him in the Cobra Pond.

I just came from the steam bath.

What do you mean they ran out of transmission?

This better not be a monthly occurrence.

Is it inch. lbs or foot lbs?

This looks like a good hiding place.

Are you sure this is the right side?

I have never been on a flight, but I look good.

Somebody held a finger on this while I tie it on.

What is a tongue wrench?

Where is Muscle Beach?

11

Just a little tighter should take up that play.

I know you are in there. Lets go! We got a formation.
